

Tasting Wines

March 2018

Wine 1: Duca Del Poggio Prosecco 2016 DOC Extra Dry

One of Aldi's new fizzes this one is all about fun. With 12-16 g/l of sugar (extra dry), this is a slightly sweeter style. It is one of the least expensive Proseccos available. Fruity and floral.

Where to buy: Aldi £4.99

Wine 4: Tesco Valpolicella 2016 DOC

An easy drinking red from Tesco, soft and fruity made by Cantina di Soave. Corvina, Molinara and Rondinella are the native grapes from the region and are the base for all levels of Valpolicella from DOC to Recioto della Valpolicella.

Where to buy: Tesco £6

Wine 2: Villa Sandi Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore Millesimato 2016 DOCG or without food.

A Prosecco trophy winning wine from the International Wine & Spirit Competition from the slopes between the towns of Conegliano & Valdobbiadene. Chill it down and serve it with

Where to buy: Amazon £13.99

Wine 5: Amarone della Valpolicella DOCG

Amarone is one of the specialities of Veneto. A red wine made from Corvina, Molinara and Rondinella that has been harvested and then partially raisined to increase complexity and body. It has been fermented dry leaving a big, bold red with higher alcohol!

Where to buy: Laithwaites £22

Wine 3: Waitrose Italian Crisp Floral White

An Italian white from the Delle Venezie made by the Marchesi Fumanelli family. A blend of Chardonnay, Muller Thurgau and Sauvignon Blanc. No Pinot Grigio in sight!!! Drink with spicy food or as an aperitif.

Where to buy: Waitrose £4.99

Wine 6: Cantina di Negrar Recioto della Valpolicella Classico 2015 DOCG

Just like Amarone, the Recioto della Valpolicella has been blended from the classic trio of varieties that has been raisined. Unlike Amarone, it cannot be crushed until after 1 January has been fermented to around 12% with up to 250 grams of sugar per litre.

Where to buy: Amazon £15.99
